

DEATH ENDS NOTABLE CAREER OF T. P. O'CONNOR, "FATHER" BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, Nov. 18.—Cheered in his last moments by the blessing of the pope and a message of solicitude and sympathy from King George, Thomas Power O'Connor, known as "Tay Pay" and "father of the house of commons," died at 3:16 a. m. today. He was 81 years old.

Death came as the result of a septic condition in one leg, which ten days ago incapacitated the aged parliamentarian and gradually weakened him until Saturday when he lapsed into a coma. Most of his last hours were spent in this wise, although he occasionally revived.

He was active up until death, taking a prominent part in parliamentary activities and national politics, despite his age. He visited the U. S. early in 1928. Ill-health caught him soon after, but he insisted on running for his seat in the commons from Scotland division, Liverpool, at the last general election, despite his having to be wheeled about in an armchair.

His mantle as "father of the house of commons," now probably will fall on the shoulders of David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who represented Carnarvon, Wales, only five years less than Mr. O'Connor represented Liverpool.

Was Newspaperman
O'Connor was born in Athlone, Ireland, October 5, 1848, and in 1870

migrated to London, where he entered newspaper work. He entered parliament as a member for Galway in 1880, and in 1885 was chosen for both Galway and Liverpool but retained the latter. He continued his journalistic work until the time of his death, and often was called "the dean of Fleet street." He was the author of several books.

His geniality won him a host of friends.

British newspapers frequently carried his terse, witty comments on important questions of the day.

SO WHAT'S THE USE?

A motorist driving through Ireland was struck by the number of notices in Irish which he saw in every village.

"Tell me," he asked an old Irishman, "why do they have all these notices in this language?"

"Well," came the reply, "I'm sure I don't know myself. You see, none of the people who can read can understand Irish, and the ones who understand Irish can't read!"—Tit-Bits.

RUSSIANS BOMBARD CHINESE RAILWAY

Harbin, Nov. 19.—Airplane and artillery bombardment by Soviet troops at both ends of the Chinese Eastern Railway were reported here today, and it was believed that the Soviet forces were trying to cripple the railway by striking at the road's fuel supply.

Advices reaching Harbin today said considerable damage had been done on the Dalainor mines near Manchuli, which are owned by the Chinese Eastern Railway. All work ceased at the mines and the miners fled with their families.

Simultaneously with the Dalainor bombardment, Soviet airplanes were reported to have raided the mining area in the vicinity of Programchanyana and Sulfenho, on the eastern end of the railway, where the Chinese Eastern has been buying coal since the Russian supply was severed.

According to messages from Khailar, a number of passengers were killed and others captured by Soviet troops after the bombardment of a crowded passenger train between Manchuli and Khailar.

HEALTH SERVICE—BEAUTY FROM WITHIN

True physical beauty comes from within and cannot be secured by the use of external applications. It is not our intention to define or suggest standards of beauty, but there are certain things which most persons will agree upon as being desirable and as adding to the charm of an individual; to these we will refer.

The expression of the individual, his posture whether standing or sitting, is a reflection of his general health. The person who faces the world with head erect and shoulders level is much more attractive than is the round-shouldered individual who fixes his eyes on the ground. Good posture is an asset of good health and habits. It is useful to each individual and pleasing to the rest of the world.

Strained and tired eyes are not beautiful. Clear bright eyes are the reflection of a rested, healthy mind and body, whether or not they are shielded by glasses. Clean, regular teeth make for an attractive smile. Good teeth are the result of proper diet, of the daily use of the toothbrush and regular visits to the dentist. Just as the quality of the teeth is chiefly determined by diet, so is every part of the body a mirror of proper care, as shown by the use of suitable food and the practice of good health habits. A healthy skin cannot be secured by external applications of cosmetics; it is the product of a healthy life and plenty of soap and water. A pure mild soap is not injurious to the skin of the face.

Expression which determines beauty much more than physical features depends upon mental health. The individual who looks upon life fearlessly, who does not give up his mind to anger and envy, who directs his thoughts into proper channels through good reading and companionship, who seeks the best in everything—such a person radiates happiness through his expression. Beauty truly comes from within!

REVINSKY WILL HANG ON FEB. 19—SLAYER OF DAVID KATZ SENTENCED TO DIE FOR HIS CRIME

Maple Creek, Sask., Nov. 16.—Herman Revinsky, this morning was sentenced to hang on February 19, next for the murder of David Katz, cloth salesman of Pleton, Ont.

Before pronouncing sentence Mr. Justice H. Y. Macdonald asked Revinsky if he had anything to say.

"All I've got to say is I'm not guilty; I'm an innocent man," Revinsky replied.

Immediately following sentence the accused was escorted from the court room into a waiting car and whisked to the cell at the R. C. M. P. headquarters. He was still wearing the confident smile which has marked his composure throughout the entire hearing. When sentence was passed he was not visibly affected.

Revinsky will be taken by police escort tonight to Regina where he will be immediately removed to Regina Jail.

The trial lasted four days, and the crown called 68 witnesses. No defense evidence was given, and Revinsky did not take the stand.

The body of Katz, in a shallow grave in the sand dunes near Gull Lake, Sask., was located by Police led by Revinsky last February. Revinsky made a statement to the police that one "Jimmy Brown" was the murderer of Katz about June 10, 1928 and that he (Revinsky) helped bury the body. Efforts to locate the Brown man were fruitless.

Not having heard from his son for a long time, Nathan Katz, father of the murdered man, started an investigation. He met Revinsky in Hamilton, Ont., and had police question him regarding David's whereabouts. Revinsky was later released.

The father of Katz later received a telegram from Vancouver purporting to be from his son, but it did not ring true. He went to Vancouver, discovered Revinsky and had him held on suspicion. On February 14, Revinsky confessed to police that he had assisted in the burial of young Katz. On February 19, in custody of the R.C.M.P., Revinsky was brought to Swift Current, Sask., and from that place led the officers to the grave. Revinsky's first trial started April 30, and the case was abruptly ended on admission by Detective Ellice of Vancouver that he had threatened Revinsky during the investigation of his movements.

LAMB CONSUMPTION INCREASES

The consumption of lamb and mutton in Canada is evidently rapidly increasing. During the year ending March 31, upwards of 40,000 more sheep and lambs were slaughtered in inspected packing houses than during the previous year. This statement which appears in the Report of the Veterinary Director General for the past fiscal year is accompanied by the less favourable statement that there was a decrease in the numbers of cattle and hogs slaughtered at these abattoirs.

According to Dr. Robert Barnes, the Chief of the Meat and Canned Foods Division, the packers are making increased efforts to improve the quality of the products they turn out. These institutions looking to the development of the home market are manufacturing more and more of the finished and prepared meats ready for the table.

According to the Report which is published by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa there were slaughtered at fifty inspected establishments during the year under review 1,008,835 cattle, 649,094 sheep and 2,453,704 hogs. Besides a few head of goats almost 200,000 head of poultry were also given inspection within the Meat and Canned Foods Division of the Health of Animals Branch.

PROVINCIAL CONTEST AND DEER PLEBISCITE PROBABLE NEXT YEAR

Calgary, Nov. 18.—Liberal clannishness in the city Monday to greet Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King and other members of the Dominion cabinet have practically been assured that no federal election is planned for the coming year of 1930, and that the national appeal may be expected by the middle of 1931, according to information from authoritative sources available today.

The word has also been passed out that the next provincial election may be expected in June, 1930, this being indicated from reliable U. F. A. sources at Edmonton.

Federal ministers and other officials gathered in the city will admit no considerable alarm over the political situation in Saskatchewan where the Liberal government was last summer defeated by a coalition of Conservatives and Independents. From observations during their trip through the northern part of the province and from information gained from constituents of the south leading Liberals here claim that Ottawa hopes to retain practically all of the Saskatchewan federal seats in the next election.

With regard to the Alberta elections anticipated next June, the opinion is held by many prominent politicians in the city that a plebiscite on the question of abolishing the sale of beer in licensed premises probably will be taken when the U. F. A. government goes to the polls.

Prohibition forces in the province are understood to be organizing with this object in view and an effort is to be made at the next session of the legislature to have the government promise a vote on the question.

EARTHQUAKE IS FELT OVER A WIDE AREA—MOST INTENSE YET RECORDED HALIFAX UNIVERSITY, HALIFAX

Halifax, Nov. 19.—No further disturbance was recorded here following the earthquake felt in the maritime provinces, Quebec, New England and Newfoundland at 4:34 p. m., Atlantic standard time, yesterday, and the after shock registered at 7:04 p. m. The chief disturbance was confined to several cables off Newfoundland, as other reports received here referred to nothing more serious than fallen chimneys, broken dishes and similar minor damage.

The quake, much more than the single, previous local shock in 1925, lasted about one minute, and was the most intense yet recorded on the instrument here.

The instrument, temporarily put out of action, continued to register

HOW RED CROSS DOLLARS ARE MADE

There is generally a special story attaching to the money that finds its way to the Headquarters of the Red Cross Society. The large donation today, wiping out part of the losses suffered in the declining markets of a few days ago. Reports of prevalent black rust in the Argentine wheat crop acted as a tonic to traders who followed closely activities at the Chicago wheat market.

News from the South American wheat belt indicated that besides a fairly serious rust plague, early yields were proving disappointing. The rust infection was rapidly spreading.

Opening from less than a cent to 10 cents higher, the wheat market leaped upward at the start and continued to keep the high levels throughout, closing at the high points. There was a trace of export business in Canadian wheat, and it was reported that mills had sold fair quantities in the domestic and export markets.

Gift-sales, auctions, all such come to the Red Cross net, when the local committee goes a fishing. Tag days and membership drives that are representative of much toil on the part of self-sacrificing workers, all add their quota to Red Cross funds.

The appeal of the crippled child and other work finds a ready response in most hearts, and poor indeed is that district that cannot do something once a year.

motion for two hours. The maximum motion of the record from the pin, four inches, indicated the earth movement was one-tenth of an inch.

An estimate by Dr. J. H. L. Johnson, professor of physics at Dalhousie, indicated the centre of the disturbance to be about 400 miles from Halifax.

NINETEEN ARE KILLED WHEN MEXICO VOTES

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Nineteen persons were killed and more than 50 wounded in nation-wide rioting Sunday which accompanied the overwhelming election of Pascual Ortiz Rubio to the Mexican presidency.

Headquarters for Jose Vasconcelos, candidate of the Anti-Electionist party, charge supporters of Ortiz Rubio had taken charge of bootlegging and through force and intimidation prevented tens of thousands from voting.

Headquarters for the revolutionary party which supported the candidature of Ortiz Rubio, replied to day, denying any but legitimate conditions had prevailed. They explained they had taken charge of voting booths under the Mexican law which says the first nine voters arriving at a booth shall control it.

The successful candidate, who has been civil engineer and soldier as well as politician, spent election day in the village of Uruapan Michoacan, where formerly he was governor and where his family lives.

Vasconcelos was said here to have passed election day at San Blas, Sinaloa. There was no confirmation that he would carry himself up as rightfully elected president, maintaining his claims by force.

Available figures showed eight killed in Mexico City and six in other parts of the republic, with five policemen killed at Pulevan when the train in which they were riding was wrecked.

Actual count in the presidential race will not be known probably until early in December when returns are sent to the Chamber of Deputies for official canvass.

There was no doubt, however, as to the outcome of the voting. Ortiz Rubio headquarters claimed their candidate polled more than 1,000,000 votes. Headquarters for the Vasconcelos party tacitly admitted defeat, but claimed fraud, and asserted Vasconcelos was the rightful president of Mexico.

Yesterday's election was made necessary through the assassination of General Obregon, president-elect, in July, 1928.

WINNIPEG PIT SHOWS WHEAT PRICE STRONG

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Following a drop to 130 1/2 for May wheat about the middle of last week, the market has shown surprising strength, and on Monday morning opened at 141 to 143 for May, being 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents higher than Saturday's May closing. November wheat opened 1 1/2 higher at 134.

This increase of over 10 cents a bushel in less than a week is taken to mean that the market is resilient in spite of stories coming out of Liverpool stating that Argentine wheat is now a glut on the European markets.

TALKIES AT EMPRESS THEATRE CREATE FUROR IN PLAY-GOING CIRCLES AT MACLEOD

Unbounded success was the universal pronouncement of the first showing of the "Talkies" at the Empress Theatre, Macleod on Thursday night last. The house was filled to capacity to greet the innovation, and the huge audience was not only delighted with the picture but also with the clearness of the enunciation, especially in the singing.

The picture was the "Gold Diggers of Broadway," a big New York musical comedy, direct from the Capital Theatre, Vancouver, the first showing in Alberta. A talking, singing picture in gorgeous technicolor and magnificent stage setting, full the equal of like portrayals shown in the largest cities.

The Empress Theatre at Macleod is amongst the first of the theatres in Alberta to introduce the "Talkies," only the large city theatres for a few months having ahead the Talkies, which shows the enterprising spirit of the management of the Empress in providing for their patrons the latest and most up-to-date productions in the picture business. Enthusiastic audiences crowded the theatre again on Friday night and Saturday night, especially at the first show on Saturday night the house was packed beyond capacity, not even standing room. The unanimous opinion of these huge audiences was that the introduction of the "Talkies" in Macleod was an unqualified success, and praise was heaped on every side for Messrs. Booth and Hughes in going to such an enormous expense to give Macleod and district the very latest and best in motion pictures.

THE LONGER THE SHORTER

Short skirts, it develops, are not doomed, in spite of the new fashions. In Paris, Captain Edward Molyneux still permits the knee for out-of-doors wear, though he exhibits longer models for afternoon and evening.

Women, of course, will wear just about what they please, so that Molyneux is really only of relative importance. But the point about this is that Paris, which took the lead in the short skirt, finds the change to longer lines less striking than on this side of the ocean.

Relativity again, for Paris never went the length in shortness that they did over here. Paris, for all its stylistic initiative, belongs to the Old World. Both action and reaction are stronger over here. But Paris is the traditional leader. Hence, an anomaly: The longer they used to be in Paris, the shorter they became over here; and now that the pendulum swings back, the shorter they were here, the longer they will become. In short, Paris skirts must be made much longer in order to avoid being shorter. That is because the New World begins its revision with Paris extremes, not its conservative models, and is thus actually in advance of its style leader.

Another way of saying it is that we used to be behind before, but now we are first at last.

NEWSPAPER ETHICS

Three newspaper reporters of Washington, D. C., have been sent to jail because they refused to tell a grand jury the names of persons whom they had learned were bootleggers. They explained that these names were given to them in confidence during the development of certain crime stories they were writing and that to reveal them would be to violate newspaper ethics.

So the three will stay in jail until they are willing to talk.

It is not a part of newspaper ethics to shield bootleggers. But it is a part of newspaper ethics to respect confidences.

It is true that the principles of these men might be more nobly employed. But to newspapermen a confidence is a confidence whether it involves bootleggers or cabinet ministers.

Those who are in responsible positions to give out news should remember that. No newspaperman can write intelligently upon any news event if he is only given half the facts. He must have the complete background for his story.

Every case of distortion in the news is due to unnecessary reticence on the part of the person who is the source of the news.

Newspapermen may be trusted. They respect confidences. And the news can only be complete and intelligent if they are treated with confidence.

CHECK YOUR CAR

With the coming of dark, damp days of fall, it's a good idea for motorists to look over their cars, see that the brakes and lights work efficiently, and replace worn tires, likely to skid, with new ones.

Canada's death list from auto accidents is a shameful thing. Bad enough in summer, it grows worse in fall and winter. No precaution that a motorist can take is too much trouble.

After the car is in shape, it might be a good idea for some motorists to put their heads in shape, too. They should realize that a clear brain and steady hand are vital to safe driving.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SARAH CLARKE

On Monday afternoon, November 18th, the funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Clarke, widow of the late John Clarke of White Lake, was held in the White Lake United Church. Rev. Austin G. Gay, B. A., directing the service and Rev. J. F. Knight, M.A., B. D., Macleod, preaching the sermon.

The church was crowded to capacity and the beautiful floral tributes bespoke the kindly appreciation of the many friends and neighbors. The spoken message was one of inspiration to the congregation, comfort to the mourners and appreciation of the deceased, who for twenty years had lived and quietly served the community.

Mrs. Clarke was born in Pontiprid Wales, January 2nd, 1858, and came to Indian Territory, U. S. A., in 1878 and to Lethbridge in 1901 and homesteaded at Monarch in 1905. A family of five blessed the union of Sarah Davis and John Clarke. These mourn the loss of a devoted mother: Beatrice Wilson, wife of Wm. H. Wilson, Macleod; Mrs. Mary Johnson, Alliance; Mrs. Lizzie Buchanan, Vancouver; William Clarke, White Lake; John Clarke, Vancouver.

"Give her the fruit of her hands and let her works praise her in the gates."

MACLEOD WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HELD INTERESTING MEETING

There was a full attendance of members of the Macleod Women's Institute on Tuesday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was of special interest, the subject for discussion being "Education and Better Schools." The ladies were fortunate in securing Inspector C. C. Bremner, M. A., to give an address on the subject, and they were not disappointed, for Mr. Bremner was right at home with his theme, and treated it in a most instructive and comprehensive manner.

Mr. Bremner stressed the great importance of home training in the life of the child before school age, impressing upon his hearers the fact that the child with the proper home training before and during school life always made the best and most successful students. He also spoke of the need of co-operation between teacher and parent, strongly commending the teacher and parent as a means of creating a sympathetic helpfulness in the work of the school. Another important matter being the school library. To-day, books of a comprehensive and interesting nature on all manner of subjects are now available for all ages and which should be in the school library for the use of the scholars.

There was so much food for thought in Mr. Bremner's address, that those who were privileged to hear it will long be impressed by it. Miss Blossom Lyons contributed to the enjoyment of the meeting by singing a solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Alice Portch. Miss Portch also rendered a piano selection in fine style, which was much appreciated.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge: Mrs. R. J. E. Gardiner (convener), Mrs. M. Hill and Mrs. F. Wall.

JOLSON COMES SOON WITH DAVEY LEE IN WHIRLWIND "SAY IT WITH SONGS"

Managers Booth and Hughes of the Empress Theatre, arrange Thursday, Friday and Saturday as the opening date for Al Jolson's supreme Vitaphone singing picture success, "Say It With Songs" in which he is supported by his world-famous little pal, Davey Lee.

Jolson's new picture begins in a broadcasting station. As Joe Lane, a popular radio entertainer and song writer, Jolson has any number of opportunities to sing—as only Jolson can sing—and his audiences are going to be thankful for the whirlwind, singing opening of "Say It With Songs," and for the gales of melody that sweep it to its climax. That Jolson is a master of pathos as well as comedy was conclusively proved by "The Jazz Singer" and "The Singing Fool" and Warner knew that the whole range of human emotions might be included in it. In selecting a story for the famous star they knew that the public demands above all else, whatever the story, that Jolson sing—and sing—and sing again.

"Say It With Songs" is an altogether different type of story from Jolson's two previous pictures but it has an even more universal appeal. It deals with a father's love and sacrifice for his boy—and the boy of course is David Lee—every father's son.

Jolson started his new picture the most enthusiastic member of the crew and cast and he so continued to the end. He likes to work and he is almost wholly without "temperament" or nerves. If he is sometimes hard to please it is because he aims at perfection.

Lloyd Bacon directed "Say It With Songs" and Marian Nixon.

Kenneth Thompson, Holmes Herbert and Fred Kohler are in the cast. It is based on a story by Darryl Frances Zanuck and Harvey Gates. Joseph Jackson did the scenario.

They report that five clubs will form the Foothills Hockey League this year—Nanton, Staveland, Clarendon, Granum and Macleod. It was decided that home talent only would be played in the games, no special players to be brought in by any of the clubs. The schedule of games will be made up at the next meeting of the executive.

The Town Hall of Macleod is being redecorated this week with a much needed new dress of paint. The walls are cream and the dark woodwork is made a light silver grey color, with a white ceiling, the whole combination giving a very pleasing effect and a very great improvement.

on the old dismal appearance of the hall. Eight new lights, with the latest style of large white globes, have been put up, entirely changing the whole interior aspect of the building. The hardwood floor will also be put in good shape for dancing and parties. The furnace and radiators have been removed and replaced with gas stoves.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE C. IVES

Another pioneer of the Great West has passed on to her rest. Mrs. George C. Ives died on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock at her home in Macleod, having reached the ripe old age of within a few months of 79 years.

Her only son, Mr. Justice William C. Ives, of the supreme court of Alberta, arrived from Calgary on Saturday night and was present with his mother in her last hours. Her only daughter, Mrs. (Judge) E. P. McNeill of Calgary, has been with her mother since early last week. The end was not unexpected, as Mrs. Ives has been confined to bed for several months and for some weeks has been gradually sinking. She has been a semi-invalid for the past year or two, but during the past summer she was often to be seen on the streets in her wheel chair, and when she met any of her old friends and acquaintances she always had a cheery word for all of them.

She was a woman of beautiful character, most beloved and widely known by a large circle of friends in Southern Alberta.

Born in Quebec

Mrs. Ives was born at Compton, Quebec, in March, 1851, where she grew up and was married in her native town to George C. Ives of the same place. Mr. and Mrs. Ives with their son and daughter came West in 1880 and first settled in Pincher Creek district where Mr. Ives was engaged in ranching. There were very few white women in the country in these early days, so that Mrs. Ives was really and truly a pioneer in the fullest sense of the term. In these early days she was very highly esteemed, as the door of her hospitable home was always open, and a hearty welcome extended to neighbor or stranger.

Thirty-four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ives moved to Macleod where they resided the remainder of their days. Mr. Ives died in Macleod seven years ago, and was buried in the Pincher Creek cemetery.

A funeral service for the late Mrs. George C. Ives was held at the home of the deceased on Monday morning, November 18th, at 11 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. F. Randall Powell, Rector of Christ Church, (Anglican), Macleod. After the service the funeral cortege left for Pincher Creek, the Rev. Mr. Powell accompanied and conducted the burial service at the cemetery at Pincher Creek. His Honor Mr. Justice Ives and his cousin Albert E. Ives, of Lethbridge, were the only relatives who accompanied the remains. The pall bearers at Macleod were: His Honor Judge A. M. McDonald; J. D. Matheson, K. C.; J. L. Fawcett, Barrister; Sheriff G. R.

Wrinkle, wrinkle, little suit,
All my labors to confute.
I keep pressing, day by day
Yet your smoothness never stays.
Every line runs into curves,
Wish I had old Adam's nerve.

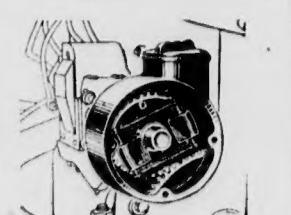

There was a time when farmers bought tractors to use with horses. Now they buy McCormick-Deering Farmalls to use instead of horses. It's a great system of farming, folks. Just great!

To preserve left-over paint melt a little paraffin and pour over the top just like with jelly glasses. The paint will then stay soft and fresh.

The Farmall is a system of farming. With it can be used many fast-working, time-saving machines developed especially for Farmall use. An outstanding example is the 7-foot Farmall Mower, which mounts directly on the Farmall and is operated from the power take-off. Ask us about it.

Lizzie: "What you think of monogamy?"
Lize: "Well, personally I prefer walnut or oak."

You know that an accurate governor on a tractor engine was essential for satisfactory operation on drawbar as well as on belt work, but did you know that present models of McC-

McCormick-Deering Tractors have governors with all working parts entirely enclosed and with all joints thoroughly oiled, thus insuring even-running at all times with practically no attention?

Izzy: "What is a niche in the church?"
Dizzy: "It's just the same as an itch any place else only you can't scratch it quite so well."

The reason why the wedding ring is placed on the third finger is because it was originally believed that a delicate vein connected that finger and no other finger with the heart.

Ball bearings are saving the world from friction and hard work. This is especially true of the McCormick-Deering Ball-Bearing Cream Separator.
